Dear Prime Minister

Today, there are still around 500 asylum seekers being held on Manus Island. They suffer from squalid living conditions including contamination of water and food which has resulted in a recent typhoid outbreak. We are paying huge sums to private contractors for woefully inadequate medical facilities and expertise. Paying $1,400 per day to keep each man in such desperate conditions is against everything I value as fair and decent. It is time to bring the remaining refugee men of Manus here.

Sincerely,
